

Nuance Launches Dragon Dictation for Email, Available now on BlackBerry App World

BlackBerry Smartphone Users Can Now Access the Power of Dragon to Dictate Directly into Email, Providing the Ultimate in Flexibility, Speed and Accuracy

Burlington, MA – April 21, 2010 – Nuance Communications, Inc. (NASDAQ: NUAN) today announced the availability of its Dragon for Email dictation application for BlackBerry® smartphones. Dragon for Email is the latest addition to Nuance’s Dragon Mobile Application family allowing BlackBerry smartphone users to easily and freely speak emails – regardless of whether they are creating, replying, or forwarding a message – keeping them continuously connected to colleagues, family and friends. The app is currently free for a limited time on BlackBerry App World™ for a variety of BlackBerry smartphones.

“The recent success of the Dragon Dictation App has produced an overwhelming response from the BlackBerry community and its huge customer base,” said Michael Thompson, senior vice president and general manager, Nuance Mobile. “BlackBerry is the ultimate mobile device for consumers and professionals who need to be able to read and respond to emails no matter where they are. With Dragon for Email, we’re now able to enhance the email capabilities that make the BlackBerry smartphone so incredibly popular.”

With Dragon for Email, spoken words are instantly transcribed, giving users the power to simply “say anything” and see their message appear up to five times faster than typing. Dragon for Email is integrated directly into the BlackBerry Email application giving people a natural, flexible way to interact with their device. People can use voice and text input interchangeably at any time to enter the contact name, subject line, or full message body.

Dragon for Email is now available in the U.S. free for a limited time on the BlackBerry App World for the BlackBerry® Tour™, BlackBerry® Storm and BlackBerry® Storm2 on the Verizon Wireless network; the BlackBerry® Bold™ series and BlackBerry® Curve series on the AT&T Wireless network; and, the BlackBerry® Curve series and the BlackBerry® Bold on the T-Mobile network.
