

Nuance analytics – actionable insights for your business.

Improve the customer experience and business results with multi-channel analytics.

Understanding the full customer journey is essential in driving high customer satisfaction and business success. Companies using time-consuming, manual processes to monitor customer interactions may miss opportunities to simplify service operations, reduce costs, and increase customer satisfaction.

To compete in today's technologically-advanced and increasingly customer-centric world, companies must adapt and leverage analytics to derive insights across all engagement channels including voice, web, email, social, SMS, and others. At the same time, they must provide an exceptional—and compliant—customer experience. In fact, research shows that poor service is the reason 68% of customers churn.

Better visibility, better results

With more than 20 years as an industry-leader in speech, automation, and self-service solutions, Nuance has long provided actionable business insights through its enabling engines, automation tools, Professional Services, and Nuance Insights for IVR.

Now, partnering with CallMiner, an award-winning industry leader in Speech and Engagement Analytics, Nuance offers an expanded analytics portfolio to give you greater visibility into the full customer journey.

The Nuance analytics portfolio includes packaged solutions that are easy to deploy and can be quickly customized. Powerful APIs give you cross-channel visibility all in one place, from your system of choice. These solutions provide visibility into vital KPIs, and generate deep customer insights that help you improve the customer experience and drive increased profits.
