

Equitrac® ID Card Reader

Convenient user authentication across your print fleet

Equitrac print management software leverages user authentication to enable organizations to gain maximum control and management of their printing while increasing document security and supporting user mobility.

Equitrac ID Card Readers are designed and built by Nuance to make authentication convenient, whether a user is printing at an MFP or using a single-function printer. Nearly all proximity and contactless card technologies are supported, including the popular HID, Indala, Mifare, Legic, iClass, and MagStripe card types.

Multi-format ID Card Reader

The latest line of Equitrac ID Card Readers includes a Multi-Format option that can read both 13.56 MHz and 125 KHz frequencies. This reader is designed to support the modern organization that needs to support diverse security standards and handle organizational changes like acquisitions where two card types are in use. With the Multi-Format ID Card Reader, users with varying card types will have full access to the printer or MFP with the convenience of a single reader.

Why use Equitrac Card Readers?

Equitrac ID Card Readers are designed specifically to work with Equitrac print management software. They have been rigorously tested on Equitrac embedded software across all supported devices from Canon, Fuji Xerox, HP, Lexmark, Ricoh, Samsung, Sharp and Xerox, as well as with the Nuance ID Controller for use with any single function printer.

Key benefits

- Leverages user authentication to enable organizations to gain maximum control and management of their printing while increasing document security and supporting user mobility
- Nearly all proximity and contactless card technologies are supported, including the popular HID, Indala, Mifare, Legic, iClass, and MagStripe card types
- Supports the modern organization that needs to support diverse security standards and handle organizational changes like acquisitions where two card types are in use
- Works with Equitrac print management software

With the new multi-format Equitrac ID Card Reader, organizations can support multiple card types using a single reader—saving money and adding user convenience.

For detailed product specifications please refer to the Equitrac ID Card Reader specifications document.

To learn more about Equitrac products, please call 1-800-327-0183 or visit nuance.com.